RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $0.2 million to $2,444.6 million from March 31, 2023 to September 30, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $116.4 million during the period. The portfolio's performance increased assets by $141.7 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $25.5 million. Series A units returned 5.3% after fees and expenses for the six-month period ended September 30, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned 5.7%. The benchmark is the S&P 500 Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Inflation declined during the period due to restrictive monetary policy and higher interest rates, as well as an easing of global supply chain pressures. Residential construction activity contracted amid higher mortgage rates, and there have been early signs of weakness within certain pockets of commercial real estate, such as office and retail. Unemployment remained at near-record lows, but there was upward pressure on wages and increased labour strikes. Inflation and higher interest rates in mortgages, autos and credit card debt dampened consumer spending on discretionary purchases.

The Fund slightly underperformed its benchmark for the period. Security selection in the industrials sector detracted from the Fund's performance, as did its allocation to the information technology sector. Holdings in Sensata Technologies Holding PLC and Atlanta Braves Holdings Inc. detracted from the Fund's performance. Sensata Technologies Holding PLC was negatively impacted by inflation in component and logistics costs and concerns that rising interest rates could reduce demand for new vehicles. Atlanta Braves Holdings Inc. recently completed its split from Liberty Media Corp. and underperformed because of higher player salaries and payments to Major League Baseball under its revenue-sharing plan, as well as increased variable stadium operating costs.

Stock selection in the communication services sector contributed to the Fund's performance, as did its allocation to the consumer staples sector. Top individual contributors to the Fund's performance included holdings in Alphabet Inc. and Meta Platforms Inc. Alphabet Inc.'s share price outperformed because the company rationalized excess headcount and costs accumulated over the past several years and benefited from investor optimism about the opportunity to integrate artificial intelligence within its search browser and other applications. Meta Platforms Inc. announced a rationalization in headcount and spending to develop its "Metaverse," which should support a recovery in profitability. The company also benefited from a stabilization in advertising demand and better user engagement with new features such as Reels.

We added a new position in Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc., a global life sciences conglomerate. The company is well positioned as an industry leader with resilient long-term growth prospects. An existing holding in Accenture PLC was increased as we believe the company is well positioned because of its leading scale, trusted reputation and wide breadth of services. We are also encouraged by healthy booking trends over the past several months and cost optimization efforts.

A position in Laboratory Corp. of America Holdings was eliminated from the Fund due to deteriorating demand for certain testing products, which we expect will continue. A position in LVMH Moët Hennessy Louis Vuitton SE was modestly trimmed because we are concerned that inflation and downward pressure on personal investment and real estate values could have a negative impact on luxury goods spending.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

We expect elevated inflation to persist over the near term and thus favour businesses that have sustainable competitive advantages that allow them to exercise pricing power. Globally, central banks have raised interest rates aggressively to combat inflation. This has put pressure on the valuations of high-growth information technology companies and companies in cyclical sub-sectors, including housing, luxury goods and industrial components. While we do not position the Fund based on specific macroeconomic factors, we believe the recent valuation pullback has presented compelling opportunities to build positions in high-quality companies within these spaces.

In our opinion, the Russia-Ukraine conflict has reshaped the global energy supply chain. The North American energy sector has benefited from elevated pricing and is well-positioned to ramp up volumes to alleviate the shortage of crude oil and natural gas, especially in Europe. However, we remain cognizant of potential offsetting pressure from demand destruction and the economic slowdown induced by central banks to tame inflation.

CI U.S. Equity Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended September 30, 2023

Consumer budgets have been pressured by elevated inflation and deteriorating housing affordability. While we remain cautious, we expect consumer spending will be fairly resilient amid excess savings accumulated during the COVID-19 pandemic, record home equity and low unemployment. We expect spending to remain especially resilient in travel, entertainment and experiences, which consumers were unable to enjoy during the pandemic.

We continue to favour companies that can endure any economic environment as well as businesses with short-term challenges that are trading at prices well below our estimate of their intrinsic value. We continue to place an emphasis on balance sheet resilience and liquidity, which enables businesses to continue investing through an economic downturn and ultimately emerge stronger when conditions recover.

(1) This information is derived from the Fund's semi-annual and annual financial statements.

(2) Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.

(3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of such expenses of any underlying fund(s), if applicable.

(4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the fiscal period/year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period/year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period/year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period/year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a higher turnover rate and the performance of a Fund. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of the cost of purchases and the proceeds of sales of portfolio securities for the period/year, and excluding cash and short-term investments maturing in less than one year, and before assets acquired from a merger, if applicable, by the average of the monthly fair value of investments during the period/year.

(5) This information is provided for the period(s)/year(s) ended September 30, 2023 and March 31.
