INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGIES

The objective of the CI Preferred Share Fund (the Fund) is to provide strong risk-adjusted total returns by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of preferred shares, from both Canadian and foreign issuers.

The portfolio advisor identifies companies that have shown a history of dividend stability and then considers the impact of economic trends. According to market conditions, the portfolio advisor may also choose to invest up to 10% of the Fund's assets in fixed income. The portfolio advisor uses techniques such as fundamental analysis to assess the value and growth potential of a company. This means evaluating the financial condition and management of a company, its industry, and the overall economy. The portfolio advisor analyzes financial data, assesses the quality of management, and conducts company interviews.

Fixed income securities may include government and corporate bonds, debentures, notes, certificates of deposit bank loans, floating rate debt instruments or other fixed income securities. The portfolio advisor selects the maturity of each investment according to market conditions.

For a complete discussion of the Fund's investment objective and strategies, please refer to the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus.

RISK

No changes affecting the overall level of risk associated with investing in the Fund were made during the period/year. The risks of the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund's most recently filed simplified prospectus or its amendments. The Manager reviews the risk rating for the Fund on an annual basis, at a minimum, based on the methodology mandated by the Canadian Securities Administrators to determine the risk level of the Fund. Any change to the risk rating made during the period/year was as a result of such review and was not a result of any change to the investment objective, strategies or management of the Fund.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Fund's net assets decreased by $7.9 million to $31.2 million from March 31, 2022 to March 31, 2023. The Fund had net redemptions of $2.3 million during the year. The portfolio's performance decreased assets by $4.2 million. The Fund paid distributions totalling $1.4 million. Series A units returned -11.6% after fees and expenses for the one-year period ended March 31, 2023. Over the same time period, the Fund's benchmark returned -14.0%. The benchmark is S&P/TSX Preferred Share Total Return Index (the Benchmark or the Index).

The performance of the Fund's other Series is substantially similar to that of Series A units, except for differences in the structure of fees and expenses. For the returns of the Fund's other Series, please refer to the "Past Performance" section.

Inflation in Canada reached a high of 8% in the summer months of 2022, a high not seen since the early 1980s. Commodity prices were a major driver of inflation as was an excess of consumer demand. In addition to high inflation, unemployment levels in Canada reached a new low of approximately 4.9%. The Bank of Canada (BoC) aggressively raised interest rates, bringing its overnight rate from 0.5% to 4.50%. The BoC finally paused its hiking of interest rates in March 2023 as inflation began to fall and the economy slowed.

Five-year Canadian bond yields rose to 3.02%, which had an effect on the repricing of the Canadian preferred share market. Preferred shares seemed to move lower more often on the BoC interest rates hikes and equity market declines than the move in five-year bond yields.

The Fund outperformed its benchmark over the year. Security selection in the rate-reset preferred share segment contributed to the Fund's performance as prices held up better on the near-term resets that would have new higher dividend rates or be redeemed at par. Security selection within the perpetual preferred share sector also added to the Fund's performance. The largest individual contributors to the Fund's performance were holdings in Enbridge Inc. 5.9491% Series 1 and General Electric Co. Enbridge Inc. continued to perform well as demand for oil increased. General Electric Co. continued its progress towards splitting into three companies, which should also result in significant debt repayment. The company announced that it was on track to spin off its health care division in January 2023, increasing certainty of the event. The Fund's new positions in institutional preferred shares issued by The Toronto-Dominion Bank (7.232%), Bank of Montreal (7.373%) and Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (7.365%) also contributed to the Fund's performance.

An underweight allocation to perpetual preferred shares detracted from the Fund's performance as long-term interest rates were volatile. The largest individual detractors from the Fund's performance were Brookfield Office Properties Inc. 4.536% Series P, 5.496% Series EE, 4.30% Series R and 6.117% Series CC rate-reset preferred shares. The preferred shares declined amid concerns in the commercial real estate market as interest rates rose quickly and employees have been slow to return to downtown offices.

Management Report of Fund Performance for the period/year ended March 31, 2023

We added new Fund holdings in institutional preferred shares issued by The Toronto-Dominion Bank (7.232%), Bank of Montreal (7.373%) and Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (7.365%). The total amount of preferred share issuance is expected to total $6.5 billion, with over 50% now issued. All the coupons of over 7% and reset spreads of 420 to 425 basis points are very attractive from highly regulated investment-grade issuers.

We eliminated from the Fund National Bank of Canada 4.45% Series 38 rate-reset preferred shares in favour of the addition of the higher-yielding institutional preferred shares mentioned above.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

As the slowing effects of higher interest rates are generally seen 12-18 months after an interest rate hiking cycle begins, we expect the data to show slowing economic growth going into the end of 2023, with the potential for a mild recession. The BoC overnight rate is expected to remain steady at 4.50% for most of the year but could be brought down gradually if inflation cools sufficiently by the end of the year. The five-year Canadian bond yield fell to 3.02% but with overnight rates steady, we expect five-year rates to remain in a range of 3.40% to 2.75%, moving to the bottom half of the range as the economy slows.

In 2023, there are a large number of rate-reset preferred shares coming up for reset, which we expect should result in higher current dividend yields. We have positioned the Fund to take advantage of this by holding more 2023 and early 2024 reset preferred shares than the benchmark. We do not expect many redemptions this year as the reset spreads are generally lower than the new issue market. With low redemptions expected, the amount of issuance should also be low.

Overall, we are positive on Canadian preferred shares for the coming six months given the high current yield of 6.20%. At the same time, government interest rates have peaked, thus making Canadian preferred shares relatively more attractive. An economic slowdown appears to be coming in the second half of 2023 at the earliest, so the higher current yield should provide protection against any negative price movements.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is calculated based on expenses charged to the Fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets for the period/year, including the Fund's proportionate share of any underlying fund(s) expenses, if applicable. The Effective HST tax rate is calculated using the attribution percentage for each province based on unitholder residency and can be different from 13%.
