What does the fund invest in?
Cambridge Global Dividend Class aims to provide consistent income and capital appreciation by investing substantially all of its assets in securities of its underlying fund, Cambridge Global Dividend Fund. The underlying fund invests primarily in equity securities of companies anywhere in the world that pay, or may be expected to pay, dividends.

The charts below give you a snapshot of the underlying fund's investments on April 30, 2020. The underlying fund's investments will change.

How risky is it?
The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk Rating
CI Investments Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What are the risks of investing in this Fund?" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees
Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the money you invest.
How has the fund performed?
This section tells you how Series F securities of the fund have performed over the past 7 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns
This chart shows how Series F securities of the fund performed in each of the past 7 calendar years. This fund series dropped in value in 1 of the last 7 calendar years. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the fund will perform in the future.

Best and worst 3-month returns
This table shows the best and worst returns for Series F securities of the fund in a 3-month period over the past 7 years to April 30, 2020. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

Who is this fund for?
This fund may be suitable for you if you:
• are willing to accept a medium degree of risk
• are seeking a regular source of income and the potential for capital appreciation
• are seeking to add global exposure to your investment portfolio
• are planning to hold your investment for the medium to long term

A word about tax
In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, or a Tax-Free Savings Account. Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.
How much does it cost?
The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series F securities of the fund. The fees and expenses - including any commissions - can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges
No sales charge is paid when you own Series F securities of the fund.

2. Fund expenses
You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the series' returns.
As of March 31, 2020, the expenses of Series F of the fund were 1.30% of its value. This equals $13.00 for every $1,000 invested.
